STEPHEN D. MURPHY, RRO

Registered Roof Observer

Project Role: Project Manager / Quality Control Inspector

Mr. Murphy has performed exclusively in the roofing industry for his entire working career. His experience began as a laborer and continued on to mechanic, project foreman and then project superintendent for various roofing contractors in the Commonwealth of Virginia. He has installed and repaired all types of low and steep slope roofing systems and has been involved with new construction, roof maintenance and roof system replacements on most commercially available roofing systems.

For the past fifteen (15) years, Mr. Murphy has specialized in quality control roof inspection services for RCS on numerous state sector projects in the Commonwealth of Virginia as well as several high profile projects for clients such as Pratt Whitney, Columbus, Georgia, Volvo Plant, Chesapeake, VA and a new roof installation for the U.S. Army at Fort Wainwright, Alaska. His thorough knowledge of roofing systems application requirements and proven ability to assist in coordination of large complex projects will prove beneficial for the overall quality of any roofing project.
